A RECORD-BREAKER.

Judge E. W. Timberlake in Superior Court Yesterday Dispatched Much Business.

TWELVE FOR THE ROADS.

Twenty-eight Cases in All Came Before Him and Were Disposed Of During the Day, Besides Organization for Term—True Bill.

Judge Timberlake made a record in the dispatch of business in the Superior Court yesterday. Twenty eight cases in all came before him during the day and of the same number of defendants twelve were sentenced to the county roads with aggregate of terms amounting to seven years and two months.

All this work was done in addition to the organization of the court and a very able charge by Judge Timberlake which required more than an hour for its reading. At the speed the court was grinding yesterday the docket will be cleared this week, but, of course, the two capital cases will require more time.

The grand jury, with Mr. A. M. Hall as foreman, also did good business yesterday and sent bills up in a hurry. Among those returned for the day was a true one against Grattan Pearce, the young negro charged with the murder of the old colored man King, last week. The bill charges murder and it remains for the jury of trial to fix the degree. The only other capital case to be tried at this term is that against young McLachlin charged with burglary.

The court convened at 10 A. M., Solicitor Duffy and all other officers in attendance.

The sheriff returned the jurors summoned for the first week and from the number the following grand jury was selected: A. M. Hall (foreman), N. H. Lockhart, Sam Bordeaux, R. R. Stone, Jno. B. King, W. A. Spencer, W. H. Barden, Jno. S. Piver, J. P. Walton, G. W. Britt, C. H. Dollar, Jno. T. Smith, R. T. Pickett, W. A. McGowan, L. C. Sutton, J. C. Stewart, T. K. Curtis, and E. N. Edens.

Of the regular jurors Thomas Torpy and W. H. McEachern were excused. Mr. C. M. Harriss was sworn as officer of the grand jury.

The following cases were disposed of during the day:

Geo. Robeson, carrying concealed weapons; continued and capias issued.

Wes Richardson, larceny; capias to issue.

Henry Green, false pretence; nolo contendre and judgment suspended on payment of costs.

Arthur Holly, larceny; pleaded guilty and judgment suspended on payment of costs.

Katie Brooks, perjury; pleaded guilty and sent one year to jail, with privilege to hire out for costs.

Mary Jane Allen, larceny; four months in jail, with privilege to hire out.

Mary Jane Allen, larceny; judgment suspended.

Bennie Richardson, assault with deadly weapon; six months on public roads.

Walter Silvia, forcible trespass, judgment nisi, sci fa and capias.

Burt Green, forcible trespass, pleaded guilty and sentenced to twelve months on county roads upon expiration of his original sentence.

Lebby Lane, assault with a deadly weapon (two cases), six months on public roads in one and judgment suspended in the other.

Charles Harrington, resisting an officer, eight months on county roads.

Charles Harrington, non payment of costs and assault with deadly weapon, four months in jail.

Thos. B. Rouse, assault with deadly weapon, twelve months on roads.

C. W. Sunderland, stevedoring without license, bill waived and pleaded guilty; judgment suspended on payment of costs.

Jno. Hurst and H. L. Philpott, stevedoring without license, bill waived and plead guilty; judgment suspended on payment of all the costs by Philpott.

Amanda Norman, indecent exposure; four months on roads, to be employed as domestic.

Daniel Washington, larceny; plead guilty; four months on roads.

James Armstrong, pleaded guilty to larceny; four months on roads.

John Winders, allowing cattle to run at large, guilty; appeals to Supreme Court.

E. F. Kitson, violation of city ordinance; not guilty on technicality of passage of ordinance in effect at the time of the alleged violation.

Samuel Blossom, allowing stock to run at large; guilty; appeals to Supreme Court.

Wm. Holly, Frank Andrews and Bryant Jones, gambling, guilty; judgment open.

Bennie Richardson, carrying concealed weapons; judgment suspended.

The court took a recess at 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening until 9 o'clock this morning.

Mabel Paige Company.

Standing room was at a premium at the theatre last night, the attraction being Mabel Paige and a strong supporting company in "The Deacon's Daughter." The piece is a trifle long but of course the company is not responsible for that, and upon the whole, deserved every scintilla of the large patronage given last night. Miss Paige has lost none of her old-time charm for a Wilmington audience and was frequently applauded at intervals during the performance. "The Little Egyptian Girl" will be presented to-night, and on Thursday evening "Under Two Flags" will be the bill. All of them are strong pieces, well acted and should draw well.

THE SEWERAGE AGAIN

The Board of Aldrmen Threshed Over the Old Straw and Then Adjourned.

REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING.

It Was Held Last Night With Every Member in Attendance—Reports of Committees and Departments—Important Matters Discussed.

"The King of France marched up the hill and then marched down again."

That quotation describes very aptly the action of the Aldermen in their inevitable discussion last night of the sewerage problem, which has been the one "paramount," as the politicians would say, ever since the Board was organized.

It was the regular monthly meeting of the Board and Mayor Waddell and every member was present. The routine business was first taken up and disposed of in a comparatively short time. Committee reports had been heard and the Board to all appearances was at "peace with the world." The discussion was leisurely drifting along the line of streets and wharves matters, when Alderman Bailey suddenly touched off the fuse and exploded a bomb in camp by asking: "What progress has been made toward restoring the streets where sewer pipes have been laid?"

Mayor Waddell read a letter which he had directed to the Superintendent of Streets, asking him to personally supervise the work and report his actions daily in writing to the Mayor. Col. Waddell supplemented the reading by saying that yesterday morning the sewerage contractors put a force of men on the restoration of the streets in the northern part of the city and he had every assurance that the work would progress as rapidly as possible.

Alderman Parker made a characteristic speech, in which he said he was tired of the wrangling about the street work; the men had commenced to restore the streets and for goodness sake, let them do it. He believed it was their intention to put them back and the hammering by the Board should stop. He also went on at some length as to the duties of the Superintendent of Streets, in which he took issue with several aldermen who contended that that official should remain at the work all the time.

Superintendent of Streets Woolard made a statement at the request of the Mayor, in which he stated it would be impossible for him to spend his entire time with the sewerage contractors, but that he was inspecting the restoration as thoroughly as possible and believed the men would do what was right.

Alderman Johnson thought he should be with them all the time and this opinion was shared in by others. Further discussion ensued by Messrs. Bailey, Parker, Harriss and VonGlahn. The two last mentioned advocated stopping the work entirely, if necessary, until all the streets were put in the same condition as before excavation.

Mr. Bailey moved that the Mayor be required to force the contractors to put the streets in normal condition within ten days from the beginning of excavation on streets. The Mayor stated that if he was to be instructed he wanted the motion put in writing. Mr. Bailey said he would do so, and while he was reducing the same to writing a recess was taken. Upon reconvening Mr. Bailey read from a pad. Mayor Waddell asked the Clerk to read the famous ordinance of the October meeting. It was shown that this required the restoration to be "immediate," and, therefore, Alderman Bailey's motion would conflict in that it said "ten days." Mr. Bailey said he wanted no conflicting provisions, and tore his ordinance up, saying it was merely a question of enforcement. He shared in the opinion that it was not necessary to wholly stop the work.

Alderman Mann at this stage of the proceedings called the Board's attention to a stagnant pool of water, near Second and Meares streets, and the discussion was so sidetracked that sewerage was not again mentioned before adjournment.

The Daughters of the Confederacy were granted use of the City Hall for the evening of Jan. 20th, and the Poultry Show was given the same privilege for four days, beginning Feb. 5th.

A communication from L. C. Sutton, J. C. Miller, W. M. Cumming, L. M. LeGwin, R. M. McIntire and other property owners in the vicinity of Tenth and Chesnut streets, relative to excavations by the city which were "washing," was referred to the Streets and Wharves' Committee.

Application of J. W. Capps for license to retail liquor at Seventh and Nun streets was declined on account of location near Ruth Hall, colored church, school house, etc.

J. D. Brown's bid of $7 per week for removal of garbage from north of Market street was accepted.

The reports of all city officers were heard and accepted. That of chief of the fire department shows 11 alarms during the past month and a property loss of less than $1,000.

Recommendations by Chairman Harriss, of the Fire Committee, were adopted as follows: Suspension of Fireman Bland for alleged non-payment of account; sale of an old horse unfit for the service; requiring the sewerage company to preserve all the old fire cisterns in case of an emergency or temporary failure of water supply. Mr. Harriss reported that the Fourth street fire alarm tower had been shipped December 24th, but had not yet arrived.

Chairman Parker, of the Light Committee, reported a saving of about $25 per month by the metre system now in use by the Wilmington Gas Light Company in the lights at Front and Fourth street markets. He asked that owing to his having no downtown office that Mr. Johnson be made chairman of his committee, and he therefore resigned in his favor. The Mayor at once very cheerfully made the appointment. It was then agreed that the police reports of the condition of th lights be transmitted to the chairman of that committee each day. Mr. Parker recommended the installation of several additional lights at the Front street market to be paid out of the saving by the meter system.

At the request of Mr. Bailey, General Manager Skelding made a statement as to the system of inspection made nightly by representatives of the contracting firm.

City Attorney Bellamy called attention to the fact that the case in the Superior Court against E. F. Kitson for excavating on both sides of the streets at the same time, had been dismissed on the technicality that the ordinance had been proposed and adopted at the same meeting of the Board contrary to law. He explained that the ordinance had been subsequently passed in legal shape, however, and was now effective.

Fines of $20 imposed each on a Wilmington Gas Light Company employe and on G. W. Mooney, of the sewerage contracting firm, for violation of the same ordinance irregularly passed, were ordered refunded.

The Committee on Streets and Wharves reported through Messrs. Maunder and Skinner that it would require approximately $600 to put the docks of the city in proper condition by dredging and reflooring. It was the sense of the Board that specifications be received for the work and an appropriation be secured as early after April 1st as possible.

The Board rescinded its action in granting the foot of Davis street to W. T. Parker for use as a wood yard on the ground that it was objectionable to adjacent property-owners.

The Mayor stated that he had advertised in the Engineering News for bids for "Maunder's" bridge across the A. C. L. tracks at Fifth street, according to specifications by Mr. Geo. H. Craft, and that he had received a large number of replies. The bids he said would close January 20th.

Mr. Bailey called attention to the condition of the pavement on Front street after the tearing up of the blocks some time ago for relaying of the street car tracks. He said the work of replacing the cobbles was unsatisfactory. Mr. Skelding, of the company, who was present, explained to the satisfaction of the Board how the work had necessarily been hurried and promised to restore the street to its normal condition soon.

The adjournment of the Board was at 11 P. M.

THE CAROLINA COMPANY.

Incorporated Yesterday by the Secretary of State—Six Hangings in Single Day—Raleigh News.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 6—The Secretary of State to-day chartered The Carolina Company, of Wilmington, with $1,000,000 authorized capital stock. The incorporators are Jno. S. Armstrong, George R. French, Walker Taylor, W. T. Shay and William E. Worth. Ninety-six out of the one hundred shares subscribed for are owned by W. E. Worth. The period of duration of the corporation is sixty years.

The Company may begin business with $10,000 and the capital is divided into 100 shares.

The object of the company is to do a general contracting business such as construction and erection, excavation, equipment and maintainance of buildings; also improvement, alteration and additions to property, road beds, bridges, trestles, tunnels, cuts, fills of railroads, beds of canals, shaft excavations and other openings in, upon and under the surface of the earth, and to maintain the same for competition; also to buy and sell and otherwise dispose of iron, stone, clay, coal, minerals, metals and timber.

Governor Aycock to-day fixed the date for six hangings, all to take place Weddesday, February 26th. They are John Henry Rose, at Wilson for killing Thomas Farmer; Andrew Jackson for burglary in Lincoln county and the four men who committed the famous "Emma Burglary," Ben Foster, R. S. Gates, Harry Mills and Frank Johnson. They will be hanged in Asheville. Six executions in a day is unprecedented in North Carolina.

"The Assembly" Ball.

At a meeting last evening of the Board of Governors of "The Assembly" it was decided that admission to the function on Friday evening next shall be by card only. Members who anticipate entertaining guests must secure cards of admission for the occasion from the secretary, Mr. George L. Peschau.

Penitentiary Directors.

Mr. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, passed through the city Sunday on his way to Halifax to attend a meeting of the Penitentiary Board. The Board was called in special session there to determine upon a plan to restore the great damage done to the State farm last week by the floods in the Roanoke river.

AFFAIRS OF COUNTY.

Regular Meeting of the Board of Commissioners Held Yesterday for January.

SOL. J. JONES RE-ELECTED.

Salary of Chairman Fixed at Same as Last Year—Multitude of Routine and Unimportant Matters Disposed Of—Tax Valuations.

The re-election of Mr. Sol. J. Jones as road Superintendent and the fixing of the chairman's salary at $1,200 per annum, the same as last year, were the principal items of business transacted at yesterday afternoon's regular monthly meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, upon which Chairman McEachern and all members of the Board were in attendance.

For the position of road superintendent there were two applicants beside that of Mr. Jones. They were Messrs. Geo. T. Shepard and C. H. Casteen and each asked for election at the same salary as now received by Mr. Jones, viz: $40 per month. Mr. Jones in his application for the re-election asked for an increase of salary to $60 per month, but while members expressed great gratification at the excellent work done by Mr. Jones, they thought it unfair to increase the salary when other applicants applied to take the contract at $40. The position formerly paid $75.

The following orders in routine and unimportant matters were made: That $3,500 taxables listed by local manager of the Bell Telephone Company be abated, the same having been listed with the Corporation Commission; that committees on building county fence and on abatement of taxes of J. S. Williams be granted further time; that the appropriation of $300 each to the W. L. I. and Wilmington Naval Reserves be made available for use of the companies; that error be remedied in tax valuation of B. F. Keith Company as soon as proper papers are received from Raleigh; that Frank Weston, colored, of Harnett township, be exempted from poll tax on account of blindness; that application of George Grady, colored, of Cape Fear township, for exemption from poll tax, be denied; that application of N. Jacobi for correction of certain tax valuations be referred to county attorney; that Jno. W. Bowman, of Wilmington township, be allowed two months' pay while incapacitated by reason of injuries received while driving one of the county carts; that the Carolina Insurance Company be allowed to pay tax on $33,707, with understanding that if suit now pending between Wilmington Underwriters' Insurance Company and sheriff be declared in favor of plaintiff, then the tax on the above amount by the Carolina Insurance Company shall be refunded; that the tax paid by Jno. S. Armstrong on twenty shares in the National Bank of Fayetteville be refunded, the same belonging to another; that the bond of the Register of Deeds be approved; that insurance on the Court House be reduced from $44,950 to $30,000; on the county clock from $1,500 to $1,000, and on the old Court House from $5,500 to $3,000; that the insurance on the jail be increased from $4,000 to $5,000; that the amount of the policies to the several agencies be equalized by the chairman; that chairman be authorized to hire out Katie Brooks, colored, confined in jail for perjury, to any one who will pay costs in the case; that excess valuation on property of Mrs. M. C. Newbury on Carolina Beach be refunded to amount of $2 83.

The report of Dr. W. D. McMillan, superintendent of health, was received. During December 138 patients were treated in the office and 48 visits made to 39 patients at their homes. The county home, jail and convict camp are in good sanitary condition; no acute sickness having occurred in the home or jail and very little at the camp. The deaths of Wiley Flowers, colored, insane, and Gilbert Telfair, colored, were reported. One case of measles, two of scarlatina and six cases of typhoid fever were reported during the month. There has been no prevalent disease reported in the county and no epidemic among domestic animals.

The report of Mr. Sol J. Jones, superintendent of roads, contains this paragraph relative to the general work during the past year:

"Since we took charge of the roads last January we have worked most all the roads as much as twice and have worked all the roads in the county except Sections 3 and 3 of Federal Point township. We have kept in repair all bridges, etc. We have placed piping where it was needed, having used about 500 feet of different sizes. We have promptly looked after all roads that have been reported; in fact, have done our duty faithfully. In future we would suggest that the superintendent notify all taxpayers that are subject to road duty to pay the $2 on or before April 1st, or in lieu thereof summons them two times, making two days each time, making the four days required by law."

IRON AND STEEL.

Last week's Baltimore Manufacturers' Record contains a most interesting article on iron and steel production, present and prospective, by J. Stephen Jeans, secretary of the British Iron Trade Association. He has spent several months in this country studying the iron and steel situation, talking with iron and steel men, and visiting iron and steel sections. His article is based on the information gained by observation and intercourse with iron and steel makers, and for an Englishman representing what was once, and not so long ago, the dictator in the iron world, he shows remarkable frankness in admitting the supremacy of this country now and in the future.

He devotes considerable attention to the U. S. Steel Company, one of the great factors in the iron and steel business, not only of this country, but of the world. He recognizes the advantages such organization possesses in cheapening production and producing at a less cost than individual establishments in this or other countries could do for the obvious reason that in proportion to the amount of business done it employs but few men, and with its large capital it keeps all of its machinery and other requisites up to date, both decided advantages in cheap production. He expresses the opinion, however, that the dividends of this great combination will be less than they are now even if prices keep up, for the iron it uses will cost more as the expense of mining increases, which he takes it for granted it will in the fields from which the Steel Company derives its main supplies.

While admitting the advantages of such a combination, and that, if practicable it would have its advantages in England, too, he recognizes the fact that a protective tariff is an essential to the success of such combination, and Great Britain being a free trade country, such an organization could not work there as it does here. Here the Steel Trust has a practical monopoly of the home market, the greatest market in the world, and with its immense business and profits, this market can afford to compete with manufacturers of other countries even if it cost more to turn out its work than it does. An organization which makes the immense output which the Steel Trust does—many millions of tons of iron, steel and rails—and nets an average profit of $4.60 a ton on foundry pig; $6.05 a ton on Bessemer pig; $8.82 a ton on steel billets, and $10.30 a ton on steel rails can afford to cut prices pretty low when competing in foreign markets with foreign rivals.

He does not take the pessimistic view that some of his countrymen do of England's future as an iron and steel producer, but while admitting the supremacy she had but a few years ago has passed to the United States he still holds that England has large resources of supply to draw from and will continue well at the front in the iron and steel world, second only to this country, which leads the world in resources and in methods of colossal and cheap production.

Knowing his views on the United States as a victorious producer of iron and steel in comparison or competition with other countries, his views on the South as a factor in the iron and steel trade are interesting to Southern people. He spent some time recently in Alabama, and thus goes upon record as to the possibilities of the Birmingham district as one of the greatest iron steel centers of the world:

"If I were asked to specify the district which, in my opinion, offered the most advantageous terms and conditions to the capitalist who was looking less to the immediate than to the less proximate future, I should feel inclined to name the district of Birmingham, Ala. Many of my American friends are aware that I have been there within the last three months. I had then an opportunity of examining and estimating the resources of the district from an iron-making point of view. I know of nothing to excel and hardly anything to equal them. In the Cleveland (England) district the ores are, as at Birmingham, generally close to or within ten miles of the blast furnaces, and the coal is within twenty-five miles, while limestone is not more than thirty miles off. But in Cleveland the ore rarely exceeds 30 per cent. of iron, and in all but one or two cases it has to be mined from considerable depths. In the case of Alabama I saw the ore being brought out by drifts from a very considerable depth, and I saw coal being dealt with in the same manner. In no other district with which I am familiar can one stand at a given point and see blast furnaces, coal mines and iron-ore mines—or rather their evidences in the form of equipment—at practically the same moment. And in my view, Birmingham has not done its level best. The new plants in course of construction or projected will be likely to do much to demonstrate how much better the district may do than anything it has yet achieved. It is a great point in its favor that it is nearer to tidewater than any other important iron-making center of the United States, and I saw and heard enough to convince me that its railway service is ready to help to build up a large export trade, if Alabama can otherwise rise to the level of its great chances."

The Birmingham district is but one a of number of districts in the South where inexhaustible supplies of iron, coal and lime are in close proximity, where they are all accessible and easily and cheaply worked. Practically the same conditions present themselves at other points on the southern side of the Alleghanies. Capital will seek them some day as it has Birmingham, and then there will be more Birminghams. If money were as abundant in the South as it is in the North, and our people had millions to put into developing the iron and steel business as the iron and steel men who run the greatest combines in the North have, the South would to-day be the great iron and steel producing section in this country, but as with her cotton mills and other industries she has had the benefit of very little outside capital. That's where these big combines hurt the South and retard her progress, because the man who goes into enterprises controlled by such trusts has to compete with those trusts and it isn't an easy thing for small capital to compete with unlimited capital, and yet Birmingham has not only been holding her own but has been making progress in the world market where she comes into competition with the world. Capital must and will flow this way and find investment in our iron mines and in the manufacturing of iron and steel at other points which present advantages not far if any behind Birmingham, of which Mr. Jeans thinks so well.

ANOTHER HITCH.

The impression was that the report of the canal commission in favor of the Nicaragua route settled that question, but it does not, for the new proposition of the Panama company to sell for $40,000,000 will, in all probability, open up that question again, not as to a canal but as to the route.

In its report the commission admitted that the Panama route had some advantages, but not enough to justify paying the $109,000,000 asked for it and didn't consider it worth more than $40,000,000, the amount for which the work that had been done could have been done, although a good deal more than that had been expended (or squandered). Now the offer has been made to sell for $40,000,000 and this may change the situation and win support in Congress for that route. Speaking of the two routes Col. C. H. Ernst, one of the commission, is quoted as saying:

"The superiority of the Panama route as a shorter and cheaper route has never admitted of any question. The first French company spent $260,000,000 on the Panama canal, and the new company has spent possibly $10,000,000 more. But we estimate that we could do all that has been done for $40,000,000, and that is all we are willing to pay for it. If the company should come to our terms the commission would probably recommend our Government to close the bargain. That is, we would do so if we were asked, for we would have no right to make a recommendation unless it was called for.

"Our figures are based on the estimates for completing the two routes We estimate that we can construct the Nicaragua canal for $190,000,000, and that we can finish the Panama canal for $144,000,000, and that, therefore, if we could get the Panama canal for $40,000,000 it would pay us to adopt that route; otherwise the Nicaragua route is for us the most economical.

"We attach no importance to the earthquake danger in Nicaragua nor to the 'doidrums,' as the calms of the Panama route are called. We think more of the cost of maintenance, which will be $3,330,000 for a year for Nicaragua and $2,000,000 for Panama."

The managers of the Panama canal hope by their last move to do one of two things, either to dump their canal on this government for $40,000,000, and thus get out of a costly job, or to put another obstacle in the way of the Nicarauga route, with the idea ,perhaps, that interest in it may diminish, and the scheme having as it has been hanging for some years, giving them an opportunity to form combinations with a view to pushing the work and creating the belief that they intend to complete the canal, in which event, the demand for the Nicaragua canal would be much less than it is now.

There is a farmer near Middletown, N. Y., who says he'll be conswabbled if a tramp is ever henceforth turned away hungry from his shack. A few days ago his wife and two children were out driving, when the horses took fright and ran away. The woman, who couldn't hold tnem, screamed for help. The horses ran about a mile, when a tramp bounded into the middle of the road, grasped the bits and held them down. That tramp had asked for something to eat at her house about an hour before that, and had been refused by her sister. She took him into the wagon, he drove her back home, the old man filled him up with provisions, gave him a suit of clothes, and declared that henceforth no tramp should leave his house hungry. The presumption is that when this gets on the roads the tramps will find his road good walking.

DEFENDING THE GRAB.

Gen. Wheeler has been an advocate of the expansion by force programme ever since it was inaugurated, but he is more candid than most of the expansionists because he doesn't indulge in any cant about "benevolent assimilation," "elevating the semi-savages," etc., but frankly declares that we should hold our new acquisitions because we "need" them to open our way to the markets of the East, and hold them when we get them. The following is the substance of an interview with him in Louisville a few days ago.

"I have differed with some of my people on the question of our new possession, but I am convinced that the retention of the Philippines, Guam and Hawaii are absolutely essential to our commercial development.

"This country during the past year was the greatest prodvcer of a number of articles, including cotton, steel, petroleum and wheat. Our population forms about 5 per cent. of the world's people. In the great orient half of the world's people live. They are great producers. They produce what we need, and they in turn want what we produce.

"My contention, then, is that the possession of Hawaii, Guam and the Philippines give to the United States an indispensable advantage in the struggle for commercial power in the East.

"As to Cuba General Wheeler said, 'Cuba will be part of us. The people will eventually realize that all their best interests demand the union. While I was in Cuba a number of prominent Cubans indicated to me that this sentiment even then generally prevailed.'"

This is the commercial argument. They will "pay," and therefore we must keep them, regardless of pledges expressed or implied. Nearly two years ago Senator Carter, of Montana, speaking as an expansionist, bluntly declared that he was in favor of keeping the Philippines if it was found that it would "pay," and if not he was in favor of turning them loose. That was candid, and so is Gen. Wheeler candid. It is a commercial argument which sweeps every other consideration aside and ignores pledges, expressed or implied, and professions of benevolent intentions so common in the months of the less frank expansionists.

Gen. Wheeler thinks Cuba will come to us, and we think so, too, for some pretence will be found for annexing that island and with just as much to stand on as the pretences for seizing and holding the Philippines. And when that pretence is found they will be justifying it just as they are now justifying the Philippine grab.

All persons failing to comply with the order will be subject to a fine of fifty dollars.

— Tarboro Southerner: Elija Lancaster, an industrious colored man, is dead, the result of the uncontrollable anger of E. L. Breedlove, a white man, Saturday morning. Wiggins' X Roads was the scene of the fatal affair, and a pocket knife was the cause, so far as can be gathered from the somewhat incoherent statement of Bob Bullock, a colored man, who witnessed the killing. —— There are about twenty prisoners in jail, and this number suggests a doubt as to whether there are enough courts in this county to promptly dispose of such cases. Four terms of the Superior Court are sufficient for all civil and criminal business, provided the presiding judge will do his duty; but unfortunately at only two of these terms can criminal cases be tried.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

A Stout Man Demonstrates the Harm Done by Fool Diet.

"Are you aware, sir, what you are doing?" The stout, florid faced man in the restaurant, who was about to help himself to a generous portion of mince pie, looked up in astonishment at the nervous, thin, little individual opposite.

"What do you mean?" he asked.

"I have been watching you," said the nervous man, "eating your dinner, and impelled as I am by love of humanity I cannot see you leave this table without a protest at the diet which you are killing yourself with. First, you had fish chowder; no protein, but slight hydrocarbonates. Then you had corned beef and cabbage, containing full 80 per cent of deleterious matter. Then you had pie, with a mountain of sugar. Are you aware, sir, that this can only be digested by the duodenum? Think of it! You'll be a wreck in a few years."

The stout man he addressed gazed at him compassionately for a moment.

"You don't look as if your diet was doing you much good," he said quietly.

"That, sir," replied the thin man, "is no argument at all. You were healthy to start with, and I wasn't. You'll go to pieces in a short time, and I'll live to be an old man, because I know the percentage of fruit salts the human system can stand."

"You'll live for years beyond your allotted time, will you?" said the stout man.

"Yes, sir; I will."

"Then," said the stout man as he rose and paid his check, "that only bears me out. It only shows what harm can be done to humanity by a fool diet."—Life.

A MODERN BIG HOTEL

ITS CAPACITY, ITS LUXURY AND ITS ENORMOUS EXPENSES.

Public and Private Dining Rooms In Which Over Ten Thousand Persons May Be Served Daily—It Is Practically a Town Under One Roof.

Writers of fiction have outlined plans for the ultimate uplifting of the human race in which they have pictured entire communities living under one roof and yet each family still retaining its privacy. Writing of facts, George Barry Mallon in Ainslee's Magazine tells some surprising things about modern big hotels that shelter persons numerous enough to form a fair sized village. He says:

"If one of New York's big modern hotels could be whisked to the country and spread out in village formation the result would be a model proprietary town of about 3,000 inhabitants. One half of these inhabitants would work in relays night and day for the comfort and entertainment of the other half, whose obligation would be the payment of the bills, which in the aggregate would represent, in addition to the running expenses and perhaps $200,000 a year set aside for the proprietor's profits, the interest on $15,000,000 invested in land, buildings and furnishings.

"Many cities cannot muster a tax list of $15,000,000, so that this town would be conspicuous above all others for wealth, and in completeness of the details that make the material side of life a joy it would be unrivaled. Some of its houses would be constructed for one family exclusively, and others would be arranged in single rooms and in suits. All would be furnished in the most luxurious fashion. In the central warehouse of the town's steward would be found a greater assortment of supplies for the cuisine than in any public market in the world. There would be a row of cookshops, each devoted to the preparation of a special course, ranging from the soups and entrees and roasts to the pastries and coffee. There would be half a dozen big banquet rooms and ballrooms, several music rooms and a well appointed theater or two.

"The town would have of course a telegraph office, a complete telephone system and some means of rapid transit to every house. Enormous boilers would supply the heat, and an electric light plant would furnish the illumination. There would be an ice plant large enough to manufacture fifty tons a day. There would be silversmith, blacksmith and tinsmith shops, electrical repair and machine shops, florists, hairdressing rooms for men and women, Turkish baths, upholstery and furniture shops, decorators and seamstresses, a steam laundry, a messenger service, a printing office, a wine cellar, with half a million dollars' worth of choice vintages, and a clubhouse, with billiard and reading rooms and cafes.

"The town would be policed day and night by a dozen private detectives, and it would have a well trained fire department. There would be a bank, over whose counters would pass millions of dollars each year, and a central executive office, with scores of clerks and bookkeepers and auditors.

"The proprietor of this town would assume all the housekeeping cares of his 1,500 tenants and many of his 1,500 employees. He would provide amusements and act as the court of last resort. It would seem as if the man who was rash enough to attempt the management of such a town, staking his fortune on the issue, must necessarily fail, but as a fair illustration it is not overdrawn. Its parallel is found in a compact form, with no features missing and many scores, in the modern big hotel that has reached the highest development in New York.

"Neither the bigness nor the completeness of a big hotel is appreciated by the patron who finds his interests satisfied with the accommodations which it furnishes. He knows in a general way that it may be a dozen stories high and several cellars deep and that the thousand or more guests are attended by servants on every hand, and when he pays his bill he believes that the charges are exorbitant.

"One of these hotels, which differs from the others chiefly in degree, represents an investment of $15,000,000. The 1,400 bedrooms and 750 bathrooms in it are so constructed by a series of inner courts that each opens to the outer air. It has several concert halls and theaters, three great ballrooms, and, in addition to its public dining room, where during horse show week, for instance, 10,000 people are served daily, it has a series of private dining rooms which are arranged for from ten to a thousand persons.

"The largest ballroom is this hotel was given one night last winter a public ball, attended by 3,500 people, to whom supper was served, and on the same evening in other parts of the hotel were in progress two concerts, a dinner of an association of 300 men and a dozen smaller dinner parties in private dining rooms, each isolated so completely that no one of the 1,500 regular guests need know of it.

"Statistics are not very entertaining, but there are some stories of hotels that they alone can tell, and that of the supplies is one of them. For instance, during a given year one of these big hotels spent for meat $200,000; for poultry, $113,000; for vegetables, $80,000; for fruit, $42,000; for eggs, $12,000; for butter $57,000, and for the flowers used in decorations, and there are flowers on the tables every day, $30,000. The initial investment in silverware was $250,000, and, with the losses that charitably are credited to the souvenir craze and the general wear and tear on table service, about $40,000 a year is spent in keeping this supply up to the hotel's standard.

"One New York hotel that suffered severely from the souvenir spoon and salt cellar mania adopted several years ago the plan of notifying guests that each waiter was responsible individually for all articles on his table and would have to make good any loss. This reduced the taking of spoons to a robbery of the waiter instead of the hotel, and even the souvenir hunter has some conscience about such a theft. In the biggest of New York hotels $50,000 a year is spent in replenishing the linen, and looms in Belfast are busy the year round for it. The expenses of the other hotels for repairs are proportionately as large, for in the fierce business rivalry of the times none of them can afford to get shabby."

Railway Improvement.

There was a time, which some of us remember, when a man before taking a long ride on a train would make his will and say goodby to his family with the most unpleasant anticipations. In those early days trains did not run fast, but when they ran off the track there were apt to be most uninteresting corpses. Today when we read of a train going 60 miles an hour breaking in two, hurling part of itself down a steep embankment, with the result that only a few are injured and these slightly, we feel that there has been progress. In fact, one is safer on a train than almost anywhere else.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Dr. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK WOMEN.

Boy's Wild Ride in the Sky.

That it pays to look out and to keep cool has just been impressed on Stanley Hopkins, a twelve-year-old boy of Lynchburg, O. At the same time he learned how it feels to hang on a rope 2,000 feet up in the sky. There was a balloon ascension at the county fair at Hillsboro, and as the big gas bag shot up Stanley got tangled in the guy ropes somehow and was jerked high into the air. Women and children fainted at the sight, but the boy kept his wits, grabbed the ropes and hung on tight while the balloon soared nearly half a mile, with the aeronaut trying in vain to get hold of him. Finally the man, after telling him to keep holding tight, let some gas out of the balloon, and they slowly came down. Stanley had been gone only eight minutes, but the crowd was so glad to see him that it almost smothered him.

The Honest Man Wins.

The world at large soon recognizes the honest man in business, and it is quick to give him its approval. "Why do you deal with Mr. Jones?" asks one person of another. "Because he always deals squarely with me," is the reply. Such a reputation soon becomes widespread. Nobody wants to be cheated of the least farthing, and so everybody flocks to the place of business of him who gives value for value and who trades according to the tenets enunciated in the Decalogue. An honest business man is not only the noblest work of God, but he is the crowning triumph of struggling humanity.

The Dream Fairy.

When all the bright sun's glory
Is sinking in the west,
The children beg a story
Before they go to rest.

So mother reads of fountains
All filled with fairy gold
And lofty, rocky mountains
Where dwell the giants bold.

Then, when the tales are over,
"Good night" to all is said,
There comes a fairy rover
To every good child's bed.

With fairy food he feeds them
And takes them by the hands,
And in their dreams he leads them
To those far fairy lands.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The cotton market opened steady, with prices two to four points lower, and further sold off after the call to 7.94 for March and 8.01 for May, under pressure of long stuff and bear selling, the former being shaken out and the latter encouraged by weak Liverpool cables and promise of heavy port receipts. Commission houses and Wall street sold in a feverish way during the call and some cotton was forced on the market by foreign interests. But before the hour closed the market took a distinct turn and rallied nearly on Saturday's final bids on a flurry of covering and light room buying; a single room operator bought five thousand bales of May at 8.03 and soon afterward bid 8.06 for more. But around this level commission houses once more figured as sellers, while new buying received a check. Big estimates for to-morrow's Houston receipts and larger crop estimates from the South gave the market a set-back before midday and at the same time stood in the way of aggressive bull support. Just when the market was beginning to pick up a little new strength on covering early in the afternoon New Orleans sent an estimate of 21,000 to 32,000 bales for to-morrow's receipts and this again sent prices downward, May reaching 8.01 before covering once more turned the course of fluctuations upward. The fact that Southern spot markets held firm and that clearances for export far exceeded port receipts, led the bears to sell cautiously. All the late session the market was very nervous and sensitive to orders from either side. The close was steady with prices net one to four points lower.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Cotton quiet at 8¼c; net receipts 316 bales; gross 9,734

FIND THE GIANT'S GARDENERS.

While hidden in a garden where
The giant's flowers stately grew,
Both hollyhocks and roses fair,
Two workers near our young knight drew.

And, tripping o'er a watering can,
Immersed the one that near them prowled.

HOW ICE IS FORMED.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE ARTIFICIAL AND NATURAL PRODUCTS.

Manufactured Ice Is Frozen From the Sides, While the Article That Nature Furnishes Is Congealed From the Top Down.

"But few people know anything about ice," said a gentleman connected with one of the plants in this city. "How it is made, how it is handled and the way to get the best results out of a given quantity are things that the average person knows but little about. There is in the first place a curious difference in the way natural and manufactured ice is formed. Natural ice is frozen from the top down. It is a matter of displacement. It begins with the first thin surface of the water and freezes down into the water, the depth or thickness depending on the prevailing temperature. Manufactured ice is frozen from the sides. Ammonia of course does the freezing, and the brine that is used acts as a sort of reservoir, holding the cold which is to crystallize the water in the cans. The streaks so frequently found in blocks of ice are due to the fact that the freezing is from the side. There is frequently found in lake ice small spaces of various shapes and describing many different lines, and these are due to small quantities of air which are imprisoned during the freezing process. These spaces are not so common in manufactured air, because the air is not allowed to take the same liberties with the water that is to be frozen.

"The processes of manufacturing ice are simple enough, but the construction of tanks, such as are used around factories and cold storage plants, is a rather complex business. They are built in layers so that air can neither get out or come in. There are generally two or three spaces that are filled with dead air that will take up neither heat nor cold. There are several layers of paper, and one space is filled with a nonconducting moss, which is really made of finely crushed granite. These spaces and layers form perfect insulation so far as heat and cold are concerned, and these elements cannot pass to and from the tanks. It costs a world of money to properly construct these tanks, and really persons not familiar with the facts have no sort of idea of the expensiveness of it.

"Few persons understand handling ice in a way to get the best results. Icemen are required to figure the thing out on a scientific basis. They know just how much ice it will take to cool a given space. They can figure it down to a square inch. But we must remember, in the first place, that ice will not cool anything until it begins to melt. If it were possible to cram an ordinary room full of ice and keep it in a condition where it would not melt a particle, the walls of the room would not cool because of the presence of the ice, but the very moment the ice begins to melt the walls will begin to cool. The ice must give off some of its cold before having any sort of influence on the things around it, and it does this when it begins to melt. Now, this is natural law and a fact which the merest tyro would understand if he stopped long enough to think about it. There is another fact which is overlooked with the same persistence by the average person who uses ice. Of course persons who have large refrigerators have mastered these simpler principles, yet they can be used with equal advantage in the ordinary icebox.

"Heat, as I started to say, travels one way and cold another. Heat goes up. It expands. It is fluffy, light and airy and is capable of floating away on the atmosphere. Cold strikes down the other way. So, in the case of ice, the cooling influences are downward. In cooling a room the ice should be placed at the top of the room to get the best results. If vents are run down at the side of the room so the cold thrown off by the ice can fall from both sides, forming a sort of circle, it will soon drift around in circular form, and the room will cool much more rapidly. These are some of the things overlooked by the vast majority of persons who use ice, and consequently they do not get the best results. By following the simpler natural laws in such matters the average man would not only get more good out of the ice he buys, but the chances are that the ice bill would be much smaller.

"But speaking of the great care taken in insulating the tank," the iceman continued, "calls to my mind the fact that wood is a pretty hot article, and this is another thing which has impressed itself with peculiar force on the mind of the iceman. Since embarking in the ice business I have often wondered what the difference in temperature was in the different kinds of woods. There is, of course, some difference, and it would be an interesting thing if some fellow could find out just about what it is. But this is not the point. All wood is hot from the viewpoint of the iceman. The fellow who figures on cooling spaces that are inclosed by wood must figure on the units of heat in order to find out just how much ice will be required. He must figure on the units of heat to be overcome under any circumstances, for that matter, but in the case where the space is surrounded by wood he must figure on wood as an additional element.

"Wood is always hot, and it generally requires a good bit of ice to drive out the heat which is stored in this material. This is why changes have been made in the matter of constructing refrigerators where meats and perishable goods are stored. The lining found in these refrigerators has saved a world of ice, because it has made it unnecessary to freeze the wooden frame in order to get the proper temperature in the box. It is probable that this general idea will in time be more useful as a saver of ice, and it will of course be a good thing from the standpoint of the consumer. Wood is a great ice eater, and this is why icemen have been plotting against the material."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

CULINARY CAPERS.

A few slices of orange added to a cream of tomato soup just before serving will, it is said, improve its flavor.

If cabbages and cauliflower are past their freshness, a tiny pinch of soda or a piece of loaf sugar will revive them.

When any recipe includes the juice of one lemon, the quantity used should be four teaspoonfuls, as both the size and juiciness of lemons vary.

When making tea, if the kettle should have boiled, pour a cup of cold water in and let it boil up again before making, and you will find the tea will be as nice again.

In cooking macaroni or spaghetti it will be found an improvement to melt the butter and cheese together and add them to the white sauce, instead of sprinkling them, as usual, between layers of the macaroni.

Some time when you want an apple tapioca and apples are out of season try pieplant as a substitute. Cut in pieces and use with a few raisins. You will be glad you tried it if you serve whipped cream with it.

If you want to keep fish, never put one on top of another. Wrap each fish separately in a clean cloth wrung out of cold water in which some salt has been dissolved, lay them on a dish and keep them in the coolest place available.

The Beauty Spot Patch.

The custom of wearing black patches to make the skin seem fairer came from the habit of applying in the sixteenth century pieces of black velvet or other dark stuff to the temples for the headache. A fashionable coquette discovered that these were becoming and brought them into use in France, whence the custom spread into Europe. They were worn not only by women, but by exquisites and the clergy, though their use was not general among men. They were called mouches and were made round, square, oval and in the shape of stars, hearts, crescents and animals of all sorts, so that a lady's face sometimes had the appearance of a menagerie.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

The Original of Tom Brown of Rugby, the Schoolboy Hero.

Few better books are known among English speaking boys than "Tom Brown's School Days at Rugby." Thomas Arnold, Jr., was at Rugby when Thomas Hughes, the Tom Brown of the school life, was a pupil there, and in "Passages In a Wandering Life" gives his recollections of the boys' hero.

Tom Hughes at fifteen was tall for his age; his long, thin face, his sandy hair, his length of limb and his spare frame gave him a lankness of aspect which was the cause, I suppose, of the boys giving him the extraordinary nickname of "executioner."

No name could be less appropriate, for there was nothing inhuman or morose or surly in his looks, and still less in his disposition. The temper of a bully was utterly alien to him, and he was always cheerful and gay.

He was one of the best runners in the school, and many a time have I seen him in the quadrangle just before "hare and hounds"—he being one of the hares—lightly clad and with a bag of "scent" strapped around him.

He was too keen eyed and observant to be specially popular, but all the small boys liked him because he was kind and friendly to them. He reached the sixth form, but left before he had risen high in it, feeling, no doubt, that his work lay elsewhere.

Tot Causes Night Alarm.

"One night my brother's baby was taken with Croup," writes Mrs. J. C. Snider, of Crittenden, Ky., "it seemed it would strangle before we could get a doctor, so we gave it Dr. King's New Discovery, which gave quick relief and permanently cured it. We always keep it in the house to protect our children from Croup and Whooping Cough. It cured me of a chronic bronchial trouble that no other remedy would relieve." THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the study with able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of everyday living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, languor, restlessness, nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation,—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness,—especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken-down constitution be repaired, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, COCELIN. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the wearied nerves tingle with renewed strength and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

INNES AND HIS BAND.

Social Event of the Season at the Opera House To-morrow Night.

The New York Herald of December 29th has the following to say of Signora Borghi, who will be seen here to morrow with Innes' Band:

"Adele Borghi, who arrived from Italy a few days since, is a notable addition to the magnificent array of operatic singers now in New York. Signora Borghi, though probably best known from her reputation as the great Italian 'Carmen,' a role which she is said to have sung some four hundred times, is notable as the creator of the title role in Ponchielli's 'Marion Delorme.' The opera was written by Ponchielia especially for Madame Borghi and Tamagno, the great tenor, and was first produced at the La Scala opera house in Milan, Italy, in 1892. This is her first visit to America with Innes and his band. A private car has been chartered for the especial use of Madame Borghi and her suite of five persons, all of whom will live in this car, the 'Yellowstone,' which has been fitted up with extraordinary care by Bandmaster Innes especially for his fair diva."

The programme to be given here is a popular one and such as the lover of music cannot afford to miss. Seat sale now open.

Clary Concert Company.

The Clary Concert Company will present the fourth number in the "Association Course" at the Y. M. C. A. to-night and indications point to a large audience. The doors will open at 8 P. M. The Albany Journal of a recent date said of Miss Clary, the leading lady in the caste: "Miss Clary won her audience from the start. She went triumphantly through the programme, prodigal in her volume of enunciation, and convincing in the strength of her art. It was not only a pleasure to listen to her, but a pleasure to watch her sing."

VENEZUELAN INSURGENTS.

Libertado Expedition Reported to Have Landed—Gunboat Captured.

By Cable to the Morning Star

WILLEMSTAD, ISLAND OF CURACOA, Jan. 6.—Shortly before midnight last night, a steamer, believed to be the Venezuelan revolutionary steamer Libertado, passed several times before this port, signalling to people ashore. Answering signals appeared to have been received from the shore and it is asserted that the last members of the revolutionary expeditions, who had assembled on this island, embarked on board the Libertado and should have been landed early this morning on the Venezuelan coast, near Vela de Coro.

Later in the day it became definitely known that Gen. Riera, the Venezuelan insurgent leader, and all the other insurgents who had assembled here, embarked on board the Libertado during the night and landed on Venezuelan soil this morning near Vela de Coro with arms and ammunition.

It is reported this evening that the Libertado has captured the Venezuelan gunboat Zumbador. The Zumbador of the Venezuelan navy was originally a tug named the Agosto.

GOVERNMENT OF THE PHILIPPINES.

An Independent Measure to Temporarily Provide for Administration of Affairs.

GIVES PRESIDENT AUTHORITY

To Regulate and Control Inter-Island Commerce—Regulates Disposition of Public Lands—Provides for Granting Franchises.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, January 6.—Senator Lodge, chairman of the Committee on the Philippines, to-morrow will introduce a bill for a temporary government of the Philippines. This bill has been drawn after many consultations with War Department officials who have been directly interested in insular affairs and the government of the provinces. The bill will not be made a part of the Philippine revenue bill which has passed the House, but will be an independent measure. The bill is entitled as one to "temporarily provide for the administration of affairs of civil government in the Philippine islands, and for no other purposes." It does not attempt to establish a new form of government in the Philippines, but simply begins by confirming the action of President McKinley in creating a commission and ratifying the acts of that commission under the instructions of the President, dated April 7, 1900. It also gives the President authority while there is armed resistance in any part of the islands to the United States to regulate and control inter-island commerce.

Section four, following the Porto Rican act, gives the government of the Philippines power to improve the harbors and old instruments of commerce, and section five, also following the Porto Rican act, turns over to the government of the Philippines all lands devoted now to public use, bridges, highways, etc Under section six, the governor of the Philippines is empowered to make rules and regulations for the disposition of public lands other than timber and mineral lands, such regulations to have the force and effect of law only after they have been approved by the President and Congress. Then follows a series of provisions to enable the commission to perfect the title of persons now occupying public lands and to lease and sell lands to such persons or give them to occupants without compensation. This is to provide for the small native land holders who are occupying and for a long time have occupied public lands but who have no titles to protect them in their holdings.

The provisions in regard to timber lands are followed by a number of sections as to mineral lands. These are very elaborate and embody the mineral laws contained in the report of the commission and which have been prepared by them with great care so that they shall be in harmony with the existing Spanish laws. One of the most important provisions is the one empowering the Philippine commission to purchase the lands of the religious orders and dispose of them on proper lines to occupants.

There are two sections which provide for the granting of franchises, so that individuals or corporations can go into the islands and construct electric and steam railways and engage in industries and manufactures. Provisions for granting the franchises are guarded, being based on the corporation laws of Massachusetts. There are provisions for establishing a coinage system which has already been presented in Special Agent Conant's report, and the final sections of the bill makes provision for a banking system and for national banks of the United States to be established in the Philippines.

COOK COUNTY DEMOCRACY.

Famous Illinois Organization to Visit the Charleston Exposition.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 6.—C. E Miller, secretary to Robert E. Burke, one of the leaders of the Cook County Democracy, of Chicago, arrived here to-day to arrange for the coming of that famous organization to the Exposition. He announced that probably 250 members of the Cook County Democracy would arrive here on the evening of February 10th and stay here for several days, perhaps until after President Roosevelt has left.

Among those who will make up the party will be Mayor Carter Harrison of Chicago; John Powers, Vice-president of the Cook County Democracy; Vice-presidents J. H. B. Runjes, James O. Gray, H.E. Bryan and many other prominent members. Mayor Rose of Milwaukee will also be a guest of the club. An order has been issued that all members, when on parade, must wear Prince Albert coats, high silk hats, white neckties and patent leather shoes and carry silk umbrellas.

SENATE AND HOUSE.

Both Bodies Met, But No Business Was Transacted.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The Senate to day met after a recess of more than two weeks, but no business was transacted on account of the recent death of Senator William J. Sewell, of New Jersey, the Senate adjourning out of respect to his memory.

The House transacted no business to-day. Immediately after it met Mr. Loudenslager, of New Jersey, announced the death of Senator Sewell, which had occurred during the holiday recess, and after the adoption of the customary resolutions the House, as a further mark of respect, adjourned until to-morrow.

SIX WHITE MEN TO HANG.

Gov. Aycock Has Appointed February 25th for the Executions.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 6—Governor Aycock to-day named Wednesday, February 25th, for the hanging of six white men, such a wholesale execution in one day being without precedent in this State. In each case there has been an appeal to the Supreme Court. Four men are to hang at Asheville for burglary at Emma, N. C.; one at Wilson, N. C. for assassination, this being the first since the war, and one at Lincolnton for burglary in which a woman was horribly cut, a child born later having on it birthmarks similar to its mother's wounds.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY CALLED AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

Spent Nearly an Hour in Conference With the President — Isadore Rayner Visits House of Representatives

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Rear Admiral Schley called at the White House to-day, by appointment, and spent nearly an hour in conference with the President. The admiral refused to discuss the conversation, saying that it was of a personal character. The President also declined to intimate the nature of the conference.

Hon. Isadore Rayner, counsel for Admiral Schley before the court of inquiry, spent some time on the floor of the House of Representatives to-day. He had been at the Supreme Court and later visited the House, where he served as a member for some years. He joined Representative Cummings, of New York, a member of the House Committee on Naval Affairs, and learned from him the general situation of affairs concerning the many bills proposed in the Schley case. Mr. Rayner said later that his visit was without bearing on the admiral's case, although being among old friends he had taken occasion to learn the general condition of affairs. In this connection it is understood that the friends of Admiral Schley have expressed approval of the bill which has been introduced making the judgment of admiral Dewey the judgment of Congress. However, the informal talks to-day led to the conclusion that a bill of this character was not likely to be reported from the naval committee, and that if action was to be taken it must be on one of the various other plans pending.

ATTEMPT AT TRAIN ROBBERY

Five Men Try to Derail a Baltimore & Ohio Express Bound for Chicago. Fled to the Mountains.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Jan. 6.—A report was received here this evening of a bold attempt to hold up the Baltimore & Ohio express train No. 7, bound for Chicago, which left here at 11 o'clock last night. The scene of the attempt was at Swanton, an isolated spot on the seventeen mile grade in the Alleghenys, about forty-five miles west of here.

The operator, M. J. Sarsfield, states that five men came into his office, the operator being alone and no houses near, and offered him candy. Before he knew it he was knocked into insensibility, a padded club being used over his head. The men then turned the switch, running the fast flying train into a derailing switch uses for freight traffic. The quick application of airbrakes prevented the train from being ditched. The train crew anticipated trouble, and the armed express officers who protect trains from holdups through that region made such a demonstration that the men rushed into the mountain, while shots were exchanged.

LOW'S FIRST MESSAGE.

It Was Brief and the Only Subject Treated Was Blackmail.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Mayor Low sent his first message to the Board of Aldermen to-day. It was brief, and the only subject he treated was blackmail in the civil administration. In the stamping out of which he said he desired the co-operation of the people of the city. "If during the next two years," the message says, "Any citizen or any employe of the city pays illegitimately, either to avoid injury or inconvenience or to secure his rights, he will do it because he wants to, and not because he must. No one, from the largest corporation to the poorest bootblack, need pay one dime for protection from harm or to secure just treatment at the hands of the city government. No laborer, or other employe, need part with one cent of his salary to any one, either in or out of the city government. Any one asked to make an improper payment for any purpose, has only to report the fact to the mayor to be sure of protection and redress. With the co-operation of the citizens and the city employes, the whole foul system can be broken up."

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

Involving Power of a State to Compel a Railway Company to Pay Back Taxes.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The case of the Florida Central & Peninsula Railroad Company vs. the Comptroller of that State was decided in the United States Supreme Court to-day in an opinion rendered by Justice Brewer. The case involved the power of the State to compel a railroad company to pay back taxes. The case was appealed from the decision of the Supreme Court of the State, sustaining the validity of the law, and that decision was confirmed by to-day's opinion. Justice Brown dissented.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

TUSKEGEE, ALA., Jan. 6. — The body of Tom Johnson, a white farmer, living near this place, was found on the bank of a creek last Sunday, his skull badly crushed. CHINESE COURT'S RETURN TO PEKIN.

Ministers of the Powers Requested to Keep Legation Guards in Quarters.

TO PREVENT A COLLISION.

Families of Foreign Diplomats to Occupy Buildings Chinese Have Tendered to Witness the Parade—Divided into Factions

By Cable to the Morning Star.

PEKIN, Jan. 6.—The Chinese officials have requested the ministers of the Powers to keep the legation guards within their quarters in order to prevent the possibility of a collision between the Chinese and foreign troops on the occasion of the court's return to Pekin. The ministers will comply.

The families of the foreign diplomats will occupy the buildings which the Chinese government has tendered them for the purpose of viewing the parade. There is much criticism of this course among the foreigners, who are not satisfied with the fact that the ministers alone are to remain in the legations. They believe that the event should be completely ignored. They say that the presence of any members of the legations will be construed as being a sort of homage to the court, and will be thus proclaimed among the people.

The foreigners are divided into two factions concerning the relations of the diplomats with the court, one holding that the relations should be limited to the fulfillment of the most formal obligatory ceremonies, and the other holding that in official and social relations the ministers should endeavor to be more intimate with the court than formerly, and should meet all Chinese advances in the most firm, but friendly spirit.

Many foreign soldiers and a few officers, to-day violated the government's request to keep off the streets which have been cleaned and decorated for the royal procession. This is likely to create resentment.

A FATAL DUEL.

Between a German Army Officer and a Student of Halle University.

By Cable to the morning star.

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—Full narratives of the duel fought last Thursday, at Jena, in the Duchy of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, in which Lieutenant Thieme, of the 94th regiment, killed a student of Halle University, named Held, by shooting him through the heart, are producing a deep sensation throughout Germany.

Lieut. Thieme is one of the best pistol shots of his regiment, and pistols were selected by the court of honor, composed exclusively of army officers, notwithstanding the fact that the student societies proposed the use of sabres. The court of honor stipulated that five shots be exchanged between the duellists, consequently he had little chance of escape. He was killed at the third exchange of shots.

The duel resulted from a party of students having jostled some army officers in the street. Held was with the students, and he slapped the face of Lieut. Thieme, who was in plain clothes.

LONG AND SHORT HAULS.

The U. S. Supreme Court Upholds as Valid the Kentucky Law.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 6—The United States Supreme Court to-day rendered an opinion holding as valid the State constitution of Kentucky concerning long and short hauls by rail road companies, and statutes enacted under the provision of the constitution. The case on which the decision was rendered was a charge against the Louisville and Nashville Rail Road Company, which company was indicted under the law upon the charge of making a greater charge for a short than for a long haul, and a fine was assessed. The verdict of the lower Kentucky State courts was favorable to the State law and this finding was affirmed by the State court of appeals. To-day's opinion was delivered by Justice Shiras and affirmed the opinion of the Kentucky court.
